Badge personalization and deployment can be complex and involve the handling of highly sensitive data.

Success requires a dedicated process, infrastructure, organization, equipment and trained staff. Gemalto has over 20 years experience in highly secured smart card-based personalization within numerous business segments and across an array of applications. With the widest range of value-added services in the market and the infrastructure to personalize from one to millions of units, Gemalto provides quick personalization of smart cards and tokens.

> Corporate badge service:

Gemalto offers a seamless process from badge ordering and personalization to delivery.

Gemalto has years of experience in smart card-based solutions for securing access to both buildings and IT networks. Gemalto's experience includes implementation of PKI applications, digital file signing, key generation and partnerships with Certification Authorities. In order to simplify deployment, Gemalto acts as a one-stop-shop for corporate identity management, personalization services and fulfilment.

> Gemalto's turnkey services encompass three steps:

Web ordering

Gemalto offers a simple way to securely order and re-order badges through the convenience of the web. Company administrators in charge of ordering badges can use their own computer to order badges, one by one or by batch file. Gemalto also provides the option for customers to upload pictures in batch mode.

The need to secure sensitive data is growing in corporate environments. Our offer is ideally suited to meet both digital and physical security needs through a single portable device. Ordering ready-to-use badges through our intuitive web interface is fast, easy and convenient.

Personalization

Gemalto provides customers with badges pre-loaded with security credentials. Gemalto's badge personalization offer is modular and flexible so that customers can choose a combination of physical access, logical access and graphical credentials. Customers benefit from our highly secured Bureau which is also used to issue national identity cards. Gemalto also has extensive experience with well-known certification authority technologies, so that digital certificates can be loaded into badges.

Delivery

Gemalto's customers don't need to worry about badge issuance and delivery to their various subsidiaries within Europe or overseas. In Europe, express delivery (usually within 24h) can also be arranged.

> Additional services

Gemalto also offers additional services such as badge design, image gallery management services and a customized web ordering interface. All these services are available to our customers, allowing for seamless badge deployment.
