A simpler & safer digital world

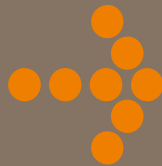

Making a difference to billions of people

At the heart of digital convergence, Gemalto helps banks, governments, telecom operators & enterprises offer secure, convenient digital services to over 1 billion people worldwide.

We believe that digital security is all about protecting people. We do this with solutions based on secure devices, software & services.

These are used to provide digital services which are personal, portable and multi-purpose. They allow people to safely access their on-line bank accounts, pay at the store, back-up mobile contacts, cross borders quickly and much more.

Solutions powered
by secure devices,
software & services

Financial Services & Retail

" We helped more than 2 million Barclays Bank customers in the UK have a safer web banking experience. "

Public Sector

" In Belgium our eID cards help citizens securely identify themselves at home and when crossing European borders. They are also used for parental control services to ensure a safer Internet experience for the nation's children. "

Enterprise

" Pfizer uses our employee ID badges to access their buildings and IT networks as well as to sign official documents. Each digital signature saves $125 in administration costs. "

Telecom

" More than 20 million subscribers at Claro Brazil can use our solution to back-up and synchronize their mobile phone book. "
