The pan-European picture

We spoke to 240 banking, retail, telecoms and transport businesses across Spain, Germany and the UK about their attitudes to contactless technology, both now and in the future. This is what they told us...

What’s driving adoption? And what’s holding it back?

Almost two thirds of businesses will need to work with a trusted partner to deploy contactless technology.

The state of play in the UK

What do businesses need to do?
